Open Works Flexible Office System

Olly Open Works combines mobile/fixed privacy panels, multiple open/closed storage solutions, and floating-look surfaces. This flexible system delivers custom solutions for different degrees of interaction and focus in work environments.

The smart joint connects legs, frames and tops, to set up a broad range of configurations, from small to big workstations, conference tables, receptions, support areas and much more. Height-adjustable pin legs allow adjustments between sitting and standing postures when required.
